1. I reviewed with Emmett Echols and [REDACTED] their proposals for new Super-grades in the Agency. They look reasonable to me and will be presented to the Super-grade Review Board at an early meeting.

2. [REDACTED] telephoned to say that after a consultation with [REDACTED] they did not believe the service to Dr. Kissinger would be very burdensome. The National Security Council is perfectly happy to have material classified through secret stored at [REDACTED] as is now the case. This leaves only top secret material, and Joe understands that the amount of TS material involved is very small.

4. [REDACTED] has received a query from a Congressional Staff member on the Hill as to our attitude with regard to the construction of an apartment on the Revercomb property. This individual is a member of one of the citizens' associations which opposes this construction. I explained to John the background of this controversy and told him that we did not wish to be drawn into this matter but that we would stand on our position taken at the time the site was selected; i.e., we do not need the apartment to accommodate our own employees, and, to the extent possible, we hoped that the Fairfax Community would remain rural in character. It is, however, the responsibility of the officials of Fairfax County to decide these matters and we should not be drawn into such a controversy.
